

I use XM Instant traffic weather to determine the weather conditions in the various cities I visit during the course of my extensive business travel. It is an excellent resource to the business traveler and one that should be expanded, not challenged. As I decided to pay for this service, I should not be restricted. This is America! Please remember this. William S. Johnson